WHY BUY LOCAL?

AS RESIDENTS OF SOUTH CENTRAL PENNSYLVANIA, we are among some of the most fortunate in the country. We are surrounded by small family farms who work hard to produce high quality foods to nourish us and tickle our taste buds.

When we purchase locally produced items, we do so much more than just feed ourselves and our families. We create a stronger local economy and support small farms so they remain in operation. We “vote” with our dollars. Plus, we help to preserve the beauty of open spaces in our community.

Many times locally produced items are different than what is typically offered by “big box” stores, because local farmers who retail their products from their farm or from a nearby market do not need to consider how well their product will endure a long ride to its destination. This gives us opportunities to enjoy more delicate products with a flavor that surpasses many products bred for shipping long distances.

Another benefit of eating locally produced food is the higher nutrient levels that can be retained in produce. As soon as fruits and vegetables are picked, they begin to degrade. Nutrients are lost while our food is shipped to us! In addition, reducing shipping helps to keep our air and waterways cleaner. We also find that the meats and cheeses from small farms have a fuller flavor than the products that are produced en masse.

This guide is a good starting point for your journey into South Central PA produced food. When shopping at farms and markets, please feel free to ask where something came from or about the practices used in its production. And of course enjoy your local foods!

ABOUT THIS GUIDE

THE CAPITAL RC&D SOUTH CENTRAL PA LOCAL FOOD GUIDE is intended to assist consumers in sourcing their diet locally by providing a listing of local farms and farmers markets, organized by county. Capital RC&D is the project sponsor and contact for this guide. Contact Cheryl Burns at Capital RC&D for more information, 717-241-4361 or cburns@capitalrcd.org. # HOW TO USE THIS GUIDE

OUR GOAL is to make it easier for you to find, choose, and appreciate great local foods while supporting the farmers and lands that produce them.

This year's food guide is organized into categories to make it easier to find the particular type of product that you're looking for. Farms are listed under the category that best describes the main focus of their business. There's also a handy index of farms, organized by county, at the back of the guide.

As you look through the guide, you'll notice that many farms sell a wide variety of products. Being able to ask the person who grows your food about all of their offerings and how they're grown or raised is one of the many benefits of buying local food, and most farmers will welcome your questions.

By the same token, we encourage you to give us a call or send us an email with your comments, suggestions for future editions, and any corrections or updates of the information listed in this guide. We hope this booklet will be a valuable resource for our community, and we hope you will join with us to help spread the word about the wonderful variety of local foods being grown, sold and savored right here in South Central PA.
